Imperial War Museum—SE1

Situated within close proximity of both Westminster and the City, this Grade II listed building with its large contemporary curved glass-roofed gallery creates a light and spacious setting to a variety of events.

Daytime meetings, conferences and away days can be accommodated in the four meeting spaces, which include a fully equipped 200 seat cinema, a conference room and two more traditionally decorated boardrooms which look out onto the parks.

The exhibits in this gallery include a rare and unique Battle of Britain Spitfire; and 'Old Bill', a London bus that once transported troops on the Western Front during the First World War.
